VOTERS WILL "DOWN" HILL.

DEMOCRATS WHO WILL NOT SUPPORT HIM. REPUBLICANS JUBILANT OVER HIS NOMINATION

-MERCHANTS AROUSED.

The friends of Governor Hill have frequently asserted of late, that just as soon as the Governor had been formally renominated, all opposition to him within the party would disappear. They were evi-dently mistaken, however, in their estimate of the strength of the opposition that has been aeveloped, was not difficult to find plenty of Democrats yesterday who will vote for Warner Miller. They did not hesitate to say so, either, and although most of them still favor the re-election of Cleveland, they say that they will vote against Hill, regardless of the consequences upon the National canvass. No steps have yet been taken looking to a formal organization of this sentiment, but it is probable that some such action soon will be taken.

John De Witt Warner is a prominent member of the Reform Club, and he will vote against Hill, he says, because the Governor has antagonized some of the most important reforms advocated by that club. a Tribune reporter yesterday Mr. Warner said: "I am opposed to Governor Hill because of his opposition to electoral reform, and even more because he has opposed reforms looking to the business administration of city governments. His election, in fact, would be w at reform in general."

Lindley Vinton, a well-known Free Trader, was equally outspoken against Hell, and declared positively that he would vote for Warner Miller. "I should vote for Miller," said Mr. Vinton, "even though I knew that such action would defeat Cleveland." Mr. Vinton said that similar sentiments were entertained by Horace E. Deming, although that gentle-man could not be seen at the time. Mr. Vinton, in fact, was confident that Hill would not get more than fifty votes at the outside from the 600 members of the Reform Club. It is said that several hundred pledges to vote against Hill have already been obtained from Democratic business men, and it is expected that these will be made public before long.

The nomination of Governor Hill was received with joy at the Republican State headquarters, and the gen-

The nomination of Governor and the general expression was that he can be beaten, even with the liquor power behind him.

Senator Fassett, whom Hill tried in vain to beat last year by spending $40,000 in his district, said:

"The action of the convention at lunfalo is not a surprise to those who have been watching the movements of the saloon people for the last six months. In spite of the opposition of the Country Bemocracy, in spite of the feeling known to exist in Brooklyn, in spite of the feeling known to exist in Brooklyn, in spite of the protest of the Reform Club, and in spite of the protest of the Reform Club, and in spite of the protest of the Reform Club, and in spite of the real desire of the Administration, the whiskey people have lashed the Democrate party into humble obedience and submission. The saloon keepers' friend has been renominated. The battle, as see in array at the Buffalo Convention, is one between the hearthstone, the school-house, the church and the purity of the ballot on one hand, and the saloons and election frauds on the other. Mr. Hill prefers the saloons to the church. He is distinctly the whiskey candidate. His strength is found in the saloon. Upon this issue of saloon and anti-saloon Mr. Miller can confidently enter the lists."

BLAINE TO SPEAK AT THE POLO GROUNDS. PLANS COMPLETED FOR THE BIG MEETING-OTHER POPULAR ORATORS.

It has been settled that the big meeting which is to ne held in this city on September 29, and addressed by James G. Blaine, will be at the Polo Grounds, which were secured yesterday. The precaut on has been taken to insure the success of the meeting in case of rain, to hire the Collseum at Fourth-ave. and One-hundred-and-eighth-st., one of the largest buildings in the city. The Harlem Republican Club has taken charge of the meeting and a circular letter to that effect was sent out yesterday to all the organizaas in this and neighboring cit es.

The speakers who have been invited and have promised to be present beside James G. Blane are Channesy M. Depew, Governor J. B. Foraker, of Ohio; Congressman William McKinley, of Ohio; John Finnerty, of Illinois; B. K. Bruce, of Mississippi General Adam E. King, of Maryland; General Stewart L. Woodford, of Brooklyn; Benjam n Butterworth, of Ohio; W. C. Plummer, Dakota; Congressman W. E. Mason, of Illinois, and James P. Foster, president of the Republican National Learne.

A platform will be erected in front of the grand stand where Mr. Blaine and other speakers will be placed. Other stands will be built and placed far enough from the Blaine stand to prevent the orator from interfering with one another. Before the speakfrom interiering with one another. Before the speaking there will be a parade through some of Batlem's principal streets. Charles Appieby, of the Harlem Republican Club, has been elected Grand Marshal and has assumed command of the parade and established headquarters at the Harlem Republican Club, No. 24 East One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st. His first order was issued yest-relay. Richard A. Brown wasppointed chief of staff and George Lucus aid and secretary. Clubs intending to take part in the parade are requested to communicate with Mr. Appleby and from each organization two members are asked to act as aids.

TO GET UP A BOGUS CONVENTION. A POO. ATTEMPT TO SHIELD HILL FROM THE

WORKINGMEN'S CONDEMNATION. An ... tempt is being made by W. H. Murtha, chairnan of the Democratic State Executive Committee, to hold a convention in Troy on Monday of alleged workingmen, to pass a resolution condemning the Republican Legislature for not voting upon the censpiracy laws. Governor Hill's emissaries, the State Factory Inspectors, have been travelling about for some weeks trying to get workingmen to attend this convention. Their expenses to Troy and return are guaranteed by Muitha, who is paying the leaders $5 a day for getting up the convention.

An attempt will be made to get the indorsement of the Central Labor Union, in this work. This is being done to overcome the honest efforts of genuine labering men to condemn Governor Hill for his cowardice in not signing the Saxton Electoral bill. But the characters of the leaders are well known, and no decent workingmen will be influenced by anything they may do. The convention will probably cast the Democratic State Committee $2,000, for the kind of workmen that they will get, cost money.

WARNER MILLER TO SPEAK IN BROOKLYN. Arrangements have been completed for the massneeting in the Palace Rink, in Clermont ave., Brooklyn, on Monday evening, at which ex-senator Warner Miller will make an address. Colonel Crugor will While the meeting is in progress a parade of clubs in uniform will take place n some of the principal streets, under Grand Marshal J. W. Jones. A reviewing stand will be erected near the Rink, where Senator Miller, Colonei Gruger and others will review the line after the meeting is over.

SHOWING REPUBLICAN TRUTHS IN BROOKLYN. The stereopicon man at Sands and Pulton sts., Brook-lyn, began to monopolize a share of the attention of passers by last evening. The canvas on which the views and sentiments are shown in about twenty-five feet square, and 250 feet distant from the stereopticon, which is directly under the roof of the Long Branch Hotel. The instrument has one of the finest condensing and magnifying sinses to be found in the country; and the views are presented with great clearness. There is no more central point in New-York and Brooklyn; and it is probable that, by way of the Bridge, the ferries, the elevated and surface roads about half a million people pass here daily.

Last evening a great crowd was gathered attracted by the beautiful exhibition; and volumes of applause the appearance of a view of General Harrison and of such sentiments as " Quick, let us lower the tariff, and call upon England to save our homes"; "There is but one free-trade, and the President is its prophet"; "The Mills bill is a business measure—St. Louis Republican.—'Yes. but not American.' " The views attracted thousands of workmen on their way home from the day's labor.

RETAIL DRY-GOODS MEN ORGANIZING. The retail dry-goods clerks of this city who believe in the principles of protection to American industries and labor met last evening at No. 57 West Twenty-fifth-st. and organized the Retail Dry-Goods Republican Association of New-York City, with the following officers: President, P. C. Dougias; vice-presidents, E. H. Wilson, T. C. Cook and M. Marks; secretary, J. B. Hersford; treas-G. E. Lee. W. S. Clark, J. P. Foster, president of League of the United States; John S. Smith, chairman of the sub-committee of the State League, and others spoke on protection and Mr. Harrison's letter The association expects to have 400 memers enrolled within a few days. Weekly meetings will be held on Thursday evenings. MR. WHITNEY ISN'T READY TO RESIGN YET. Washington, Sept. 13.-Secretary Whitney returned to Washington to-day, and said to an Associated Press reporter, with reference to his alleged intention to re-

There is no foundation for the statement, nor "There is no foundation for the statement, nor for the reason last given in its support, namely, that I am a protectionist, and was opposed to the President's message on that ground, and therefore will resign after election. I am just the same kind of a protectionist that the President is, and we have not differed upon that subject. We have not always agreed upon questions of policy, but our differences of opinion are forgotten when the occasion is passed. He has always accorded to me a larger share of his confidence, and much greater consideration than I ever considered myself entitled to. I am happy to say that an cloud lessever passed over the personal relations which existed between the President and myself before we came accorded to me a larger share of his confidence, and much greater consideration than I ever considered myself entitled to. I am happy to say that me doubt less ever passed over the personal relations which existed between the President and myself before we came here. This life leaves marks upon a man. To administer a great public office properly may look easy, but it is not. You have to bear burdens and give your life to it; the rewards are great, but the cure and strife are great, too, and doubtless you can appreciate that A man can consistently look forward to the day of his relief with pleasure, and at the same time cheerfully bear his share in the contest so long as he is deemed of use. That's all there is about it." Mr. Whitney says with reference to the use of his name in the Senate in connection with the Standard "I have never owned a dollar in it, nor ever had any relation to it. Every officer or director of the Trust is, I believe, a Republican, and so are nine-tenths of its stockholders."

MR. HEWITT WOULD HEED DUTY'S CALL HE DOESN'T WANT TO BE MAYOR AGAIN, BUT HE

MIGHT RUN UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS. Mayor Hewitt yesterday again denied the statements which he said he observed were being continually kept before the public, which represented him as seeking a "Such representations," he said, " are wholly groundless. I favor a combination of the local Democratic forces upon a representative man, who will administer the office solely in the interest of the city and the public. My influence would be favorable to such a result. I do not want the office again, and although I feel better able to undergo the strain to-day than I did two years ago, I would not accept another time, except under special conditions. The Henry George movement of 1886 brought about the action of Tammany Hall, and I accepted that nomination against my personal desires. people come to me and say, 'Mayor Hewitt, you haven't pleased us entirely, but we think you have acted for he best interests of the people, and we want you to accept another term.' I should decline absolutely to consider the offer. But if Tammany, as it has been indicated, shall nominate another man for Mayor, on the ground that he will distribute the patronage among the members of Tammany Hall, I might feel it a duty owed my conscience to serve two years more as layer, if the people should ask me to do so. But do not wish to be understood as a candidate in any elieve that a return to the old regime, where the ayor is simply a creature acting under the direction a political machine, and distributing patronage ac-ording to its orders, would be one of the worst things at could happen to the city. The development of ings such as disgraced the city under Tweed's reign ould be the immediate and natural result."

CHAIRMAN COOPER PRESENTS THE SYMBOL OF VICTORY TO CRAWFORD COUNTY, PENN. Meadville, Pean., Sept. 13 (Special) .- The party ac companying and assisting Senator Thomas V. Cooper. State chairman, in the work of formally opening the stumping campaign of the Republican party in Pennsylvania, Journeyed from Forest County this morning and arrived in Meadville at 1:45 p. m. They were met at the depot by a large committee, headed by the Northwestern Band and the Young Republican Club of Meadville, all neatly uniformed. The business places and dwelling houses along the route were gayly decorated in honor of the occasion. Harrison, Morton and Culbertson banners and streamers were visible on every In Diamond Park a great crowd gathered to witness the presentation of the prize banner, won by the Crawford County Republicans in the campaign of 1887, and to hear the speeches. Colonel John B. Compton called the meeting to order and S. Slocum was chosen to preside. Chairman Cooper presented the banner, remarking that the State Committee will repeat its offer this year to the county showing the largest gain over the Blaine vote of 1884, and predicting that his native county of Delaware would carry off the prize, " If I am red-headed." Colonel Compton rended in happy terms, after which Colonel Snowden, of Philadelphia, made a brief address. He was followed by the Secretary of State, Mr. Stone, in an ex-haustive review of the tartif question. At 8 o'clock this evening a meeting was held at the Opera House. Colonel Snowden made the opening speech at the evening meeting. He was followed by Secretary of State sione, who showed the indirect injury that would be fone to the farmer by removing the tariff of $2 a thousand on lumber. State Chairman Cooper dis-cussed the greater liberty of opportunity possessed by the American over the English workman. He argued that double wages, with care and thought, means to the American a competency at the end of twenty years, while the English workman remains at his starting

ENDING A FACTIONAL FIGHT AT WORCESTER. Worcester, Mass., Sept. 13 (Special).—The Xth District Republican convention to-day nominated Joseph Walker, of this city, for Congress T. C. Bates, of North Brookfield, who was defeated for the noudopponents, representatives of the faction that won in the convention and was defeated at the polls, put against him Mr. Walker. At the last moment, when it was seen that Bates had no show, the opposition to Walker united on City Solicitor Frank P. Goulding, of this city. At the convention bitter speeches attacking Mr. Walker on account of his Mugwump record two years ago were made, but his friend stood by him, acknowledging his error, and vouching for his present loyalty to the parry, and his pronounced opinions in favor of protection. Mr. Walker had filly-live votes, just the number necessary to a choice. Mr. Goulding, fifty-one, and there were three scattering. A motion to make the nomination unanimous failed.

Mauch Chunk, Penn., Sept. 13 .- "The Gazette" of this place will print to-morrow the following letter from General Benjamin Harrison to the editor which explains itself: "I cannot but express surprise that you should ask me such a question as that contained in your letter of September 6, namely, whether I have ever said in effect that a dollar a day was enough wages for a workingman. There may be campaign lies so plausible as to require a denial, but this is certainly not of that sort."

to Senator Frank B. Arnold, chairman of the General Laws Committee of the Senate, which was delegated to continue the investigation into trusts, complaining because the investigation had been postponed until December. In reply Senator Arnold explained the cause of the delay, it being the request of the Democratic members of the committee to pospone it, and giving the trists a severe overhanding. Senator Arnold's reply will be printed in full later.

DIABLO IN FIRST PLACE.

THE WINNER OF THE GREAT EASTERN.

ANOTHER GOOD DAY FOR FAVORITES-M'LAUGH. LIN'S SUPERB RIDING.

Nothing was gained by the Coney Island Jockey Club in postponing the Great Eastern Handicap one day. The thunder storm of Wednesday night put the track in a far worse condition than that of Wedne day afternoon, and it was unsafe to use the new Futurity course. It was too soft and slippery in spots. The attendance was excellent, the racing of high class, the management perfect, and everybody went away happy except the bookmakers, who lost heavily on such favorites as Terra Cotta, Egmont, Letritia and Santalene, while the winner of the Great Eastern, Diablo, was a strong second choice.

The great feature of the day was McLaughlin's wonderful riding. "The New-York Sportsman" quoted the remark of an old turfman, that "McLaughlin was the pest horse the Dwyers ever had." There is sound sense in this. No lockey who rides to-day in America, and no lockey who ever rode in America, could equal his matchiess performances yesterday. And yet he rode no better then than he has often ridden for the famous Brooklyn stable. Only the peerless and unapproachable McLaughlin could have gotten Terra Cotta nome the winner in the first race, Egmont in the third and Santalene in the sixth; while his riding of Diable was worthy of all praise. Garrison has great force at a finish, but he frequently makes the blunder of pulling his mounts so far back as to lie the race. Hayward has refinement and delicacy in hamiling a horse, but he has not the power in finishing that McLaughlin possesses. Murphy is a slow starter, cautious and fimid in a crowd, and never rides with the desperate energy that McLaughlin shows in a doubtful struggle. Archer at his best was never better than McLaughlin when he is all himself. In losing him the Dwyers suffered the severest loss that they have encountered since they began racing. In the first race, Terra Cotta was a great favorit at odds on, but he is still out of ferm, and Prose and Lottie Wall gave him all be could do in every stride in the homestretch. Prose, in fact, could have won easily if the stable boy, Casey, who rode her, had had no whitp. Will owners and trainers never learn the folly of giving a whip to a feather-weight stable boy who always drops a horse's head when he uses the lash? Prose had the field beaten at the furlong post. Then Casey began whipping, and she swerved and slackened speed. Terra Cotta, with McLaughlin working like a demon, got the race by a head, while Lottle Wall, bravely ridden by Barnes, got second place, a nose before Prose.

Wahoo has recovered his form, and he was always good on a heavy track. He romped home in the second race with Grisette second. My Own and Raymond ran wretchedly. My Own's performance being in strange contrast to her race only a few days ago, when she seemed to revel in the mud, and left her field far Egmont has been troubled recently with a navioular affection, and was on the verge of breaking down. But McLaughlin's superb riding got him hame the winner of the Speed Stakes by a neck from Britannic, who was only a neck before Tipstaff. Egmont's leg pained him so that he wanted to stop at every stride, But McLaughlin laid him alongside Tipstaff, and pocketed Britannic so that he could not get through, and thus succeeded in winning the race with a horse that could hardly stand up. After crossing the line Egmont broke down, and McLaughlin was forced to dismount. Egmont may run next year, but he will not go to the post again in 1888. This is very unfortunate, as hosts of turfmen had been looking forward to a meeting between Egmont and Kingston, the fastest sprinters of the day. Mr. Haggin's Sonoma was all amiss in the mud and was Haggin's Sonoma was all amiss in the mud and was beaten far off. So, 100, was Salisbury, who needs a fast track to do himself justice.

Salvator was withdrawn from the Great Eastern, and Mr. Haggir started only Fresno, with Garrison up. He was a strong favorite, with Diablo second choice. The Castle Stable ran two, Diablo and the Reform-Madge filly, and in the French pools the stable was the favorite for the place. The Great Eastern was worth to the winner over ,000. Diable is owned by Jonas Langfeld, a Broad-$7,000. Diable is owned by Jonas Langfeid, a Broadway wholesale merchant, who races under the name of the Castle Stable. Mr. Langfeid was cordizily congratulated on all sides, as he deserves to be. All his racing has been upright, fair and generous. He always runs to win, gets the best jockeys he can, has nothing to conceal, has no sly and efemitious ways, bets moderately, is frank, candid, gental and popular. Diable has been a consistent, sound, honest coit, sometimes he has been beaten by bad riding, and sometimes he has met better two-year-olds. He is at home in the mind, and can carry weight well. Although it is not likely that he can beat the Faverdale coit, Gaien, Proctor Rnott, Salvator, Fresno, and perhaps one or two others at even weights on a fast track, he is almost on a level with the best of them, and can always be trusted to run gamely, truly, and to do his best. He is a sterling little coit, with the genoine hall mark of merit. His breeding is by Eolus-Grace Darling, and he is likely to go on and improve and be an excellent race-horse hereafter. As a yearing he was stunied and diminutive, and was bought for only $230. McLaughlin said yesterday that Diablo ought not to have been beaten by Fresno when they last met. Then Fresno carried 122 pounds to Diablo's 113 pounds, but McLaughlin admits now that he made the mistake of making his run out early with Diablo, and Fresno beat him at the finish. Certainly, if hereafter Diablo meets Fresno on a good track at seven pounds difference in the weights, hearly with Diablo, and Fresno beat him at the finish. Certainly, if hereafter Diablo meets Fresno on a good track at seven pounds difference in the weights, hearly with Diablo, and Fresno beat him at the finish. Certainly, if hereafter Diablo meets Fresno on a good track at seven pounds difference in the weights, hearly with Diablo, and Fresno beat him at the finish. Britannie was in front to a fair start, Egmont last. At the quarter Tipstaff took the lead, and attended by Salis bury, nucle the running into the homestretch. Here Egmont drew out and appeared to be winning so handlig that McLaughlin cased him. This enabled Tipstaff to get up to the favorite's head. McLaughlin then began to ride, and it was all that he could do to get Ezmont going again. Britarnic spuried at the end and tried to force his way between Egmont and Tipstaff, but this was prevented by McLaughlin, who pulled his mount so close to the yourgster that Littlefield could not get through. GENEVA S. SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY. HER THIRD RICH STAKE OF THE SEASON-GUY AND JACK TO MEET TO DAY.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 13 (Special).—There was a cool, windy afternoon for the third day of the circuit races. A large crowd was present, but the racing was tame compared with that of yesterday. The unfinished 2:22 Guaranteed Stake for $5,000 resulted in Geneva S. finally winning. This was about the longest and most stubbornly contested race in the circuit this season. The wint landed her third rich stake of the year, and has won more money in purses and stakes than any trotter through the circuit. In the seventh heat Kit Curry's sulky was wrecked by a collision with that of J. B. Richardson.

THE JEWELS FROM MR. TAYLOR'S STORE. The girl Laura Lent, who was sent to the Raymond Street Jail, in Brooklyn, on Wednesday, to answer to a charge of stealing some jewelry from the store of P. W. Taylor, at No. 521 Fultonist., told yesterday a story involving a young man named James Brumley. a clerk in a law office. She said that she was introdeced to him about a year ago, and that he gave her a diamend ring to wear. It was not an engagement ring, but she were it part of the time. About a month ago she lost it from her pocket-book, and instead of telling Bramley of the loss she stole a ring SIXTH RACE-HIGH WEIGHT HANDICAP. 12 of similar character from the tray in Taylor's store At the same time she took a diamond horseshoe which tay beside the ring. She gave the ring to Brumley, and when she was arrested she sent for it and he re turned it to her. She said that he did not know how she got the ring, but fafled to show how he was reconciled to the discrepancy between the new ring and the

Mr. Taylor thinks he has connected her with another theft. He says that she left a scarf-pin in his store a year ago to have another made like it for $10. She gave the name Mrs. Baldwin, but did not return for the pin. A diamond ring was afterward missed and a clerk was discharged. The police also say that sho bought a quantity of goods in Macy's store some months ago, and ordered them sent to an address in Twenty-second-st, but no person of the name she gave could be found there.

Miss Lent sang in a church choir in Passaic, N. J., before she went to Brooklyn with her parents four years ago. She has recently been a student in the New-York Conservatory of Music, and was to sing in the pin.
